Debt Capital Markets Telecommunications Lending

Types of Debt Capital:

- Venture Debt
- Revenue Interest Financing
- Royalty Based Financing
- MRR Lines of Credit
- Structured Financing
- Equipment Lease
- Asset Backed / Secured
- Working Capital Lines of Credit
- Mortgage / Deed of Trust

Syndicate – Investment Banking acts as a “Start-up and Growth Company Venture Debt Underwriter, Servicer & Facilitator” to companies operating in the Telecommunications Industry.

Venture Debt, also known as venture lending, refers to a variety of debt financing products offered to early and growth-stage companies. Venture debt generally consists of a three to five-year term loan or equipment lease.

When structured appropriately, venture debt can be an attractive financing option because:

- It results in less equity dilution for entrepreneurs and investors
- It does not require a valuation to be set for the business
- Venture debt does not generally require board seats
- The due diligence process is typically less exhaustive compared to equity.

Benefits of Venture Debt Solutions

- Fuel Growth – Provides Growth Capital with No to Minimal Equity Dilution
- Extended Runway – Extend Cash Runway to achieve the next milestone
- Increase Valuation – Bridges to next round of financing at a higher valuation
- Enhance Liquidity – Strengthens Balance Sheet and enhances liquidity
- Structured Capital – Achieves a more balanced and less costly capital structure
- Subordinated Debt – Can be subordinated with Senior Bank Debt

Equity Capital Markets Telecommunications Investment Banking

Types of Equity Capital:

- Common Shares
 - Restricted Voting Shares
 - Preferred Shares
 - Rights & Warrants

Syndicate – Equity Capital Markets:

- Private Offering Underwriter & Institutional Investor Relations
- Institutional Investor Introductions & RoadShows
- Syndicate – Equity Capital Markets does not engage in the sale or solicitation of any securities (this is the role of the Broker Dealer and/or market maker, or the Issuer).

Syndicate – Investment Banking acts as a “Start-up and Growth Company Equity Capital Underwriter, Servicer & Facilitator” to companies operating in the Telecommunications Industry.

When business owners reach a critical point with their company and make the decision to sell all or part of the company, many decide to partner with a private equity firm to take their business to the next level.

Private equity can mean a lot of different things, but to the Syndicate team, it means an investment in a private company to help them grow. If you’re a business owner or founder, taking on a partner (or partners) is a big step, and can create a lot of uncertainty. We’re here to answer your questions about how all of this works and what it can mean for you. To start, here are some of the main reasons why top-performing private companies are increasingly deciding to bring on a private equity partner:

- To provide shareholders with partial or total liquidity
- To have “two bites at the apple” – partial liquidity in the first transaction, and a potentially bigger payoff in a later transaction
- To gain additional capital for expansion or acquisitions
- To get a stronger partner (or partners) with aligned interests who can help grow the company
- To have a sounding board for their ideas and challenges
- To gain accesses to “best practices” from other leading companies, as well as senior-level contacts at potential customers and alliance partners
- To benefit from the financial sophistication of private equity partners

IPO & CAPITAL MARKETS LISTINGS

Syndicate – Investment Banking coordinates Initial Public Offerings (“IPO”) and Capital Markets Listings for some of the World’s most recognizable Stock Exchanges. An IPO is the First Sale of a Company’s Stock via the Public Capital Markets. Very often, especially in today’s world, an IPO is issued by a young company, though a number of older companies are still registering for IPO’s, each with the purpose of securing investment capital from investor classes not afforded to it when it was a private company.

Some Benefits of an IPO & Capital Markets Listing:

- Fundraising: The most often cited advantage of an IPO is Money. In 2020, more than $435 Billion USD was raised by United States Companies through the IPO process, which is far above the previous high of $279 Billion USD set in 2014. The largest IPO of the year was Warner Music Group which raked in a whopping $1.93 Billion USD. The proceeds from an IPO provides ample justification for many companies to Go Public even without looking at the other benefits. IPO funds can benefit a growing company in countless ways, such as financing research and development, hiring new employees, building new buildings, reducing debt, funding capital expenditures, acquiring new technologies or companies, or to bankroll a number of other possibilities. The money provided by an IPO can transform the growth trajectory of a company.
- Exit Opportunity: Every company has stakeholders who have contributed amounts of time, money, and/or resources with the hopes of creating a successful company that has value. The founders and investors often go for years without seeing any significant return on their contributions. An IPO is a significant exit opportunity for stakeholders, whereby they can potentially receive massive amounts of money, or, at the very least, liquify the capital they currently have tied up in the company. As stated in the Fundraising point above, an IPO often raises a significant amount of money, which makes them very attractive to founders and investors who often feel that it is time to receive financial compensation for years of “sweat equity”. It is, however, important to note that in order for founders and investors to receive liquidity from an IPO, they will have to sell some of their shares of the now public company on the Secondary Market (e.g., NYSE, NASDAQ, etc.), and their ownership interest in the company will decrease by the percentage of ownership in the company that each sold share represents.

IPO & CAPITAL MARKETS LISTINGS

- Stock as a Means of Payment: Being a public company also allows for the use of publicly traded stock as a means of payment. While a private company has the ability to use its stock as a form of payment, private stock is only valuable if a favorable exit opportunity arises. Public stock, on the other hand, is essentially a form of currency that can be bought and sold at a market price at any moment, which can be helpful when compensating employees and acquiring other businesses. For a company to thrive, it must hire the right employees, and the ability to pay employees with stock or offer stock options allows a company to be competitive when trying to hire top-tier talent, even if the base monetary salary is lower than what competitors are offering. Additionally, acquisitions are often an important way for companies to continue to grow and stay relevant. Since acquiring another company is normally expensive, a public company has the option to issue shares of its stock as a means of payment, rather than using millions of dollars in cash.
- Reduced Overall Costs of Capital: A major obstacle for any company, but especially younger private companies, is their cost of capital. Before an IPO, companies often have to pay higher interest rates to receive loans from banks or give up ownership to receive funds from investors. An IPO can lessen the difficulty of receiving additional capital significantly. Before a company can even begin its formal IPO preparation process, it must be audited according to PCAOB standards; this audit is normally more scrutinizing than any prior audits (if any), and fosters greater confidence that what a company is reporting is accurate. This increased assurance will likely result in lower interest rates on loans received from banks, as the company is perceived as being less risky. On top of lower rates, once a company is publicly traded, it can raise additional capital through subsequent offerings on the Stock Exchange, which is easier than raising capital through a private funding round.
- Publicity and Creditability: If a company hopes to continue to grow, it will need increased exposure to potential customers who know about the company and trust its products and/or services, and a Capital Markets Listing can provide this exposure as an IPO with a Capital Markets Listing thrusts a company into the public spotlight. Analysts around the world report on companies listed on the Global Capital Markets in order to help their investor clients know whether to invest in a company, and many news agencies bring attention to different companies that are listed on the Capital Markets. Not only do companies receive a great deal of attention when they decide to go public, but they also receive creditability for their continued listings on the Capital Markets

Mr. Jeff Sprecher
Founder, Chairman & CEO

NYSE-MKT BACKGROUND:

The New York Stock Exchange is the World's largest stock exchange by market capitalization of its listed companies. The New York Stock Exchange acquired the American Stock Exchange in 2008, and the New York Stock Exchange is officially known as "NYSE-MKT". The NYSE-MKT is an attractive exchange for solid microcap and small-cap companies.

The NYSE-MKT has four different listing and public shareholder standards with a number of differing combinations within. As a result, the NYSE-MKT listing requirements offer flexibility to companies operating in different market sectors.

The NYSE-MKT listing requirements can sometimes be confusing, and waivers can be applied for in certain circumstances when a company desiring to list is strong in all listing categories but for one.

NASDAQ BACKGROUND:

The NASDAQ Stock Market started electronic trading in 1971 and was officially recognized as a stock exchange by the United States Securities and Exchange Commission as of June 1st, 2006. Over the past forty-five years, the NASDAQ has evolved into the preferred trading market for Technology and biotechnology companies.

The NASDAQ is split into three tiers: (1) the Global Select Market, (2) the Global Market, and (3) the Capital Market. All tiers of the NASDAQ are much more volatile than the trading markets of traditional stock exchanges. This volatility results in more shares being traded per day on the NASDAQ than any other U.S. Exchange.

Many Issuers will choose to list on the NASDAQ Capital Market as its barrier for entry is generally the first one achievable, though Syndicate will detail the IPO Listing requirements for each NASDAQ Market Tier in the following slides.

OTC PINK BACKGROUND:

The OTC Markets divide issuers into three (3) levels of quotation marketplaces: OTCQX, OTCQB and OTC Pink.

- The OTC Pink, which involves the highest-risk, highly speculative securities, is further divided into three tiers: OTC Pink Current Information, OTC Pink Limited Information, and OTC Pink No Information.

The following slides provide a summary of the listing requirements for each level of quotation on OTC Markets.

NOTE: Syndicate – Investment Banking does not participate with companies seeking a listing on the OTC Pink.

OTCQX BACKGROUND:

The OTCQX divides its listing criteria between U.S. Companies and International Companies, though they are very similar. The OTCQX has two tiers of quotation for U.S. Companies: (1) OTCQX U.S. Premier (also eligible to quote on a national exchange); and (2) OTCQX U.S.

The OTCQX is divided into two tiers of quotation for International Companies: (1) OTCQX International Premier; and (2) OTCQX International.

OTCQX U.S. BACKGROUND:

- Have a minimum bid price of $0.10 per share for its common stock as of the close of business on each of the 30 consecutive calendar days immediately preceding the Company’s application for OTCQX. If (i) there has been no public market for the Company’s securities in the United States and (ii) FINRA has approved a Form 211, then the Company may apply to OTC Markets for an exemption from the minimum bid price requirements, which exemption is at the sole discretion of OTC Markets. In the event that the Company is a Seasoned Public Issuer (i.e., has been in operation and quoted on OTC Link or another exchange for at least one year) that completed a reverse split within 6 months prior to applying for admission to OTCQX U.S., the Company must have a minimum bid price of $0.10 per share for its common stock as of the close of business on each of the five consecutive trading days immediately preceding the Company’s application for OTCQX, after the reverse split;
- Have GAAP compliant (i) audited balance sheets as of the end of each of the two most recent fiscal years, or as of a date within 135 days if the Company has been in existence for less than two fiscal years, and audited statements of income, cash flows and changes in stockholders’ equity for each of the fiscal years immediately preceding the date of each such audited balance sheet (or such shorter period as the Company has been in existence), and must include all going concern disclosures including plans for mitigation; and GAAP compliant (iii) unaudited interim financial reports, including a balance sheet as of the end of the Company’s most recent fiscal quarter, and income statements, statements of changes in stockholders’ equity and statements of cash flows for the interim period up to the date of such balance sheet and the comparable period of the preceding fiscal year; and
- Be included in a Recognized Securities Manual or be subject to the Reporting Requirements of the Exchange Act.
